Absolute Rating	Like other MSV strings, this string is easy to string and does not stretch much. Prior to pulling the strings you should wipe the dust that's attracted by the string. The Co-Polymo changes its playing characteristics with time. At the beginning it felt quite stiff but after around half an hour it provided great playing characteristics, especially on slice and drop shots. Comparable to the SPPP 1.18 in terms of power and precision, maybe a bit better. I was a bit surprised by the durability which is a multiple of the SPPP's durability. I could not detect a significant tension loss before I had played the string for 3 weeks. My new standard string for 2007!
